“ I was skocked and saddened to learn of our brothers passing, I could write for hours about SSG Hurst (his rank as I knew him). We served together in Dragon Company 3rd Bn 8th US Cavalry, we deployed to Kuwait together, and countless other exercises. We trained hard, played hard and did our best to train young warfighters skills that would prepare them for the wars to come.

Tony was a passionate Armored Trooper, although he had held many military positions previously, it was being a mounted warrior on the Abrams where he found his true calling. I performed in his and Jennifers traditional Cavalry wedding, Tony chose me to be the one to welcome Mrs Hurst to the Cav family (a swift slap of a cav saber across her rear as the couple passed thru the arch of cav sabers). Tony is an American Patriot, a real Hero, loved his family, loved his Cav brothers, and will always be my friend and brother. May the Almighty God provide strength and comfort for Tonys family during this somber time. Us warriors whom knew Tony as a warrior will meet him down that long dusty road on Fiddlers Green, secure the High Ground Fellow Trooper til we ride again.

“ We were saddened to hear of Tony’s passing. Please accept our condolences, we are at a loss for words to express the pain we and so many others are feeling at Tony’s death. We cherish all the time we spent with your family from Ft. Knox to Jasper and seeing the kids grow up! Sharing meals and conversations at local restaurants with your family was always a high point while in the area for our sister visits at Ferdinand. How lucky we are to have had Tony in our lives. Just a few words when thinking of Tony: honorable, kindhearted, unforgettable, one-of-a-kind and one-in-a-million. Tony will be remembered as an amazing person who lived a remarkable life. Thank you for being a blessing in our lives. Chuck & Nancy Williams

“ The deepest condolences to a family who once called our house home. We still fly the flag Tony left behind in honor of him and all who courageously served the rest of us in harm's way. Jenifer's spirit of devotion and love still lingers there, too. We will hold your family in our prayers for a long time.

“ I did serve with Tony and could write for hours on great of a Soldier and leader he was, or how I still turn to him for advice. Maybe I will write about it in another memory post, For this memory, I wanted to explain just how amazing he was as a father, husband, and person. I learned more from Tony than he will ever know. (we're both competitive not sure I would admit it to him..lol) Amy and I met Jen, Tony, and the kids at fort Knox. We had some amazing parties. We even had to put Shawn in charge of one of them (story of another time). What I loved and learned from Tony is how to be a father and a husband. When we met I didn't have kids. When he talked about Shawn and Anthony he would swell with pride. Even over the years if they did something that frustrated him he always ended with how proud of them he was and the men they have become. I always admired how he saw so much potential in them and was so proud of all they accomplished. Now their Hailey "Daddy's Girl" I met her when she was young maybe 4-5. She could get a room full of some of the toughest warriors to do whatever she wanted. Tony taught me how to be a "girl dad" he talked about her with so much emotion and love every time we would talk. He is so incredibly proud of the young lady she has become. The thing that impressed me the most was the unconditional love that he had for Jen. We all know that Jen was the rock in the family and he loved her so much. He would talk about her like they just met and he had butterflies about this amazing girl. We never had a conversation that he didn't brag about how amazing Jen was. We would go back and forth on who had the #1 and we look forward to living close together once I retire. So we could drive Amy and Jen crazy. He taught me so much about being a father and a husband just by his action. Even when he knew he was frustrating Jen or the kids he always end the conversation by how much he loved them and took responsibility for the frustration. I would argue that we were each other's sounding board. We could not talk for months and pick the phone up and it would be like we talked yesterday. I know I am rambling so I will end this post with. Tony Jen Shawn and Anthony have had a lasting impression on my Parents Amy Josie and me. We love you and will always be here. My biggest regret is I am currently deployed and might not make it back for the funeral. Just please know I loved Tony unconditionally he got me through so much I just hope I did the same for him...

Tony, I know your listening.....rest, easy brother!!!! your legacy will live forever!!!! Save me a spot next to you at Arlington so we can continue to raise hell!!! I will always be here for your family!!! "I gotta ya Battle"..... Love ya.... Talk soon!!!

“ I didn't know Tony as a military man, but as kind and gentle soul as my neighbor. The first time I met him as an adult (his mom was my cub scout den mother), I asked if he really got blown up 8 times. "Nine," he laughed. "Better buy some lotto tickets," I said. Such a strong man, and deeply devoted to getting that summer tan because he told me he thought it was cold here in the summer. He was always willing to help at my house. Even though we didn't hang out golfing or things like that, I will remember sharing apples and chatting under the trees where we would meet as we both mowed our yards. It has been a tough year for your family and mine. God speed...
