“Bradley Knust was the father that any young man would want to have as a father, but he never had a son. It’s very unfortunate because his brother-in-law Josh could have shown him all of Brad’s musical interests and his sisters would have had a chill brother to protect them. Brad was the kind of man that you could depend on, the kind of man that you would want in your corner. Brad showed me that there was more to life than just existing. Brad existed to make difference. Brad, when he did exist, made a difference, and I will forever be grateful for him. RIP Bradley P. Knust. Wherever you are, I know “One More Time”, by Daft Punk is playing on repeat! 🎧

“ I miss u daddy. I wish u could've been here to see my 13th birthday. The day i became a teenager. I wish u could've met all the kind people that I know today. I wish u were still here with me watching spongebob square pants upstairs on Jess and my bed. I spend a lot of days missing you, wondering what the last words were that I said to you last. You would be so proud of me in school. I wish that you were here to congratulate me, draw with me, make stuff with play doh with me. Things we did when I was little. It's been 7 years since I last saw u, though it feels like I was talking to you just yesterday. There's not a day that goes by, were I'm not missing you. I love you and my love for u will never ever end. I love and miss u daddy.

“ Dad... if I could write a story, it would be the greatest ever told, of a kind and loving dad, who had a heart of gold. I could write a million pages, but still be unable to say, just how much I love and miss him, every single day. I'll remember all he taught me, I'm hurt but won't be sad, because he'll always send me down the answers and he'll always be my dad! I love u daddy.

“ My dad was the best and he didn't deserve to die. He meant more to me than these drawings I created or the music I hear that reminds me of him. He was the best dad a kid could ever ask for.

“ How very sad it was to hear about Brad. We first met him when he was a boy. He was quite intelligent, even then. We know he'll be missed by all who loved him.

“ To the man I looked up to for years, I will truly miss you. As a young teenager I went to you for guidance and advice and you never once turned me away. Honestly I owe a great deal of gratitude to you for helping steer my life in the right direction. I love you man. Thanks for being my brother and friend. To Brad's family, I am really sorry for your loss. There aren't very many men I've met in this world that I've enjoyed knowing more than Brad. I wish you all the best in this difficult time.
