“ My deepest condolences to Dorothy's family. While I only met Dorothy briefly on a few occasions, I had a couple personal connections to her family. I worked with her husband, Jim, for several years at Coca-Cola in Jasper. Those were my first, special, formative years with Coca-Cola, and led me to continue with my 40+ years career with the Coca-Cola system. Ken Dudine, her brother, was a teacher of mine while attending Ireland grade school in the early 60's -- while tough and demanding at times, I remember him as my FAVORITE teacher from that era -- even using his name periodically in those "password security questions" that we sometimes have to create for our various online accounts. May God bless your family.
