“ when someone makes a bad choice and pays for it with their life some would call it poetic justice not this dudes family even though his drug addiction was out of hand and that ultimately led to his death yes we all know the driver of the car was intoxicated but he got into the automobile Willingly without hesitation maybe if he wasn;t so high or had a license that wasnt suspended for DUI he would not have been in that car but frankly anyone who really knew him all knew his drug abuse would be the cause of his demise."Justice for eric?"he made his choice but everyone blames someone else but eric made his choice no matter how bad it was
