“ George was never without a smile. I remember him as Father Thad's cheerful, right-hand man. Always at his side, willing to assist him as needed. I believe that is what he will be remembered for most, to include the positive impact he had on those who were blessed to have known and converse with him. You came away from him a happier person.

“ I remember George when Father Thad would bring him to my workplace. He was a very friendly person. I remember seeing his eyes light up when he would see me in public. He loved conversation. I remember how he loved trains, of any kind, and how he loved to talk about them. I also remember how kindhearted he was. He told me one time, about a facial reconstruction surgery he endured so children would be less afraid of him when they saw him. I barely understood what he was saying at that time, because by then, I saw him as a beautiful man. I will never forget George Day.
