“ The neighborhood will never be the same without Gene. I hope that you and Joe are having a beer, Ruthie is watching out after you and if there is grass in Heaven you are mowing Terry's yard. Rest in peace neighbor. I'll have a drink for you.

“ Geno was a friend of my Papaw Ron Thewes. All of his grandkids knew Geno, even though we never knew how they were connected long ago. I remember my Papaw driving past Geno's for a quick stop to say hi, sometimes we'd bring him an ice cream. He always made me laugh so hard by picking on me jokingly. He made my grandpa laugh often, a sound I miss dearly. Although I have not seen Geno for awhile, he will continue to always come to my mind when I drive past his home, which in turn always reminds me of my Papaw Ron. I am hopeful they now will be able to share a beer again.

He was such a dear friend of Ron thewes even being his pallbearers. If you need someone to carry geno to his next life I know the thewes boys and family would be proud to bear that casket to his final resting place
