“ He will be greatly missed! His wisdom and wit was like no other. I never knew why things happened in the world until I talked to Jerome. It happened because of the sign of the moon, or the weather!

Sister Jane will welcome him to heaven! I miss them both!

We will miss Jerome! I loved talking with him. He was a wise man. And, sometimes a wise guy! 😊🤔 He was a straight-shooter and if he told you something, you can be assured it would be the truth. He was honest, faith-filled, and a man with integrity. My fondest memory of him was when in the pouring down rain in the dark he sat in mud up to his chest trying to save a new born calf while the calf's mother lay dying nearby. He was determined to save the calf just as he was determined to always do right for his fellow man.

Siblings....you fight as kids then when you grow old, you realize you've spent more years together on this planet than with most others. When I had phone conversations with Jerome, I could 'see' him beaming with pride when he spoke of his family. I know his faith was strong. We talked about that often. He now is checking out with Jane, "the heavenly house God built". Rest In Peace brother. Till we meet again. You've earned your rest. 🙏
