“ Sheila, Marybeth and I were sorry to hear of your loss. It was a pleasure working with Jim for many years in the Affinity program. It was clear that Jim was a committed individual in whatever he did. We have been praying for you and we will continue to pray that God will provide the comfort that you need during this difficult time. Scott & Marybeth Romberger

“ Sheila, Carolyn and I are relative newcomers to OFS and Indiana. Jim was among the first senior executives I came in contact with in the course of managing our Logistics team. He could not have had a bigger welcome mat for me, both personally and professionally. In business, he was the face of integrity. As we navigated through legal and safety matters, I found Jim to be an ideal mentor. I was so comfortable and confident when he was in the room providing guidance and direction. Of course his book and the roulette experience is the story of legend. He went with me on the first trip and when my palms started to sweat and I was nervous, Jim took over and like the genius he is, he worked that table like a magician and we both walked out big winners. Carolyn and I were proud and honored to be a part of the last trip to the "boat". Please know that you, Jim and your entire family remain in our daily prayers and the void we feel today has been replaced by an everlasting, loving memory of a beautiful man. May God Bless Jim and Sheila Harris.

“ Sheila: Where do I start on the memories? There are so many. He was my friend and my mentor. He was a wonderful man who loved you with all his heart. I am so sorry I cannot make it to the viewing or the funeral. I am having minor surgery on 3-5 and I cannot get out of it. It breaks my heart to not be there. Work will not be the same without his smiling face and terrible jokes that he thought were hilarious. I am all the better for knowing him and you. You have my sympathy and my love. You are not alone....ever!

“ Dear Sheila and family. I was honored to know and work with Jim since OFS joined Affinity back in 1997. In the dozens of board meetings and workshops we both attended, we always sought each other out to chat, talk business and get updates on family affairs. Back in late 2006 we were emailing back and forth and I talked about my wife's breast cancer treatments. He gave words of encouragement and then gave the following reflection in the message: "I turn 55 in two days and I'm slowing way down. I spent years in the trenches and now I'm taking it pretty easy. My book is at the publishers, most of my travel is for pleasure, and I have four hobbies that I really enjoy. Tonight I'm meeting my soon-to-be new step-mother. I'm finalizing plans with two investor friends to open a virtual yellow pages e-bay store. I love what I do. I have too many friends to keep up with. I'm in great health. All six of my kids are happy and doing well. I've had a great life. I have more money than I'll ever spend, and I have a general impression that God is pleased with me. I have a wonderful wife who I love dearly and is perfect for me. I can't think of anything I'd change." At the time I thought how wonderful it was for him to look back and appreciate where his life was at that point in time. Most of us do not take the moment for such reflection. We had great fun at some of the various casinos where I would ask him to mentor me at the roulette table (is it hard to believe he accepted unconditionally?) and I was amazed at his good fortune. I am blessed that I get to meet many, many people in my job and at these functions I always try to seek out those I truly admire. Jim was one of those people. He was always upbeat, kind and generous to a fault. I considered him a friend and am deeply saddened. Words betray me in understanding your loss. I will always remember Jim...one of the good guys... ~Tim Smith
