“ He was my customer at Walmart.. I've missed talking to him since I havent been seeing him the past couple months. It made me very sad when he told me of his diagnosis. He's been on my mind lately n he's been n my prayers. He told me one of the last times I talked to him that he considered me a good friend n I appreciate that n his humble spirit. It makes me very sad that I won't get to talk to him about just simple things r he also shared things to me that concerned him that he was going thru. I miss him.Ive prayed for all that were close to him.
