“ Kenny Pancake was one of the most caring, loving men I have had the pleasure to know. He was quick to lend a helping hand when needed or give some practical advice when you were down. He was always ready to tell you a little joke or share a laugh. He seemed to always be cheerful and worked hard to brighten up your day with a smile when you needed it the most. He was a wonderful father and husband who cared for the women in his life dearly. His daughters are a reflection of his spirit. He taught them how to be kind, compassionate and loving. They learned those lessons well. His other true love was the outdoors. He never turned down an opportunity to catch the big bass or find the next big buck. He found pleasure in the simple things in life and that's why I admired him. I hope now that he is with the Lord he will find the happiness he so richly deserves. He will be greatly missed by his family and by those he met in life's journey. He touched many of us in ways he will never know. For that, I am sorry that I did not get to tell him how much I appreciated getting to know him. I will mention it to him in my prayers tonight. God bless the Pancake family in their time of loss. Our thoughts and prayers are with you.
