“ How am I supposed to say goodbye to you? You was only 33 😭 I remember the first time I met you, the birthday parties, working together, and our famous porch parties. Not sure how we never got arrested lol You always had a place in my heart. Your simple little laugh, your craziness, our wild crazy adventures (yes I'll ask kids if they remember) you nicknamed me KitKat it stuck. I've had a week that I couldn't control and now all I think about is you. You deserved a better life. I'll forever love you kiddo.

“ My Beautiful little sister. We have so many memories Kristin. From collecting tad poles to laying on the floor next to you when you were throwing a temper tantrum. You would kick, scream and I would act just like you were. You looked at me like I was crazy. I would tell you that is what you looked like and you would stop for a little while. There are to many memories to share. Know that I will cherish each memory I have of us. Oh how I wish this was not the end of our memories. We should of had more. I Love you Kristin. Your big sister, Alyssa

Kristin was always sweet and kind. Best memory was when she was pretty young Kayla too we played Frisbee follow the leader in the parking lot of the insurance place while they were at there Dad's it was late at night we did that a few times. Kayla do u even remember that? Hugs and prayers to u all ❤️

Kristin was such a sweet person always smiling I remember babysitting her and Kayla when Kristin was a newborn and continued watching them for quite awhile and her crying when I would leave and I would come back inside sometimes because I couldn't stand to see her cry babysitting Kristin and Kayla was some of my favorite memories as a teenager. It was such a cool thing for me to babysit for her and then when she was older she babysat my son a few times for me I had just seen Kristin at the pool a little while ago with her babies and we were talking about funny things we remembered she will be missed by so many people

I met Kristin at ModusLink. She became one of my best friends. She was such an amazing, beautiful, caring person who would do anything for anyone. I will miss her so very much. She never said love you. She said love you long time. We always went to each other's kids birthday parties. I will miss you so much. Love you long time until we meet again ❤️
