“ *And today the music stopped ... Larry and I were friends many decades ago. He was a singer in a rock n roll band ... The Wyles .. Was it Billie Knu at St. Meinrad?? He was always a true gentleman (even though not fashionable to be so then) He tried more than a few times to talk some sense into me where one of his band mates was concerned. He was determined -- I was stubborn - and I learned my first lesson about compromise.
I ran into him about 5 years ago while visiting my mother and we talked so easily as if he /we had gotten younger and smarter. I am proud to say he was my friend.
May the family find comfort in knowing just how much he was loved by so very many.
Let's lift a glass in his honor ... And play him off the stage, not with tears , but with a song in our hearts.

“ Kris, so very sorry to hear of Larry's passing. He was never without a friendly smile or a warm hello! There was always an upbeat mood between you both each morning as I dropped off my two young children many years ago for daycare. It was reassuring to know that they were in good hands!
God's peace to you & your family.

“ I first met Larry when he was with the band "The Wylds" of which I was their equipment manager one summer. Larry was Always smiling and always had a kind word or asking how you were. And that attitude continued throughout the times we met occasionally thru the years. The last time I saw Larry just recently, the pleasantries continued. We said our good byes and now my final good bye. Rest In Peace my longtime friend! May Kris and family find peace in this difficult time. Mike Vogler

“ Larry was a great man and a great friend. When Appalachian Wood first began Larry represented our first customer, but he was much more than a business associate. Larry helped Appalachian in so many ways. He worked with us for 15 years but even when he moved on we always kept in touch. My fondest memory is when Larry wanted to make a bet on a Pittsburgh Steeler and Indiana Colt's football game. The bet was whoever won bought the loser a football jersey but the loser had to pay for it. The Colt's won so Larry sent a really nice jersey along with a pretty hefty price tag. Larry knew I wouldn't have spent that kind of money if I had won so we both got a good laugh about that. Larry was a good man and he will be missed. I am grateful to have the honor of calling him friend. I extend my heartfelt and deepest sympathy for his passing, God Bless Dennis McCahan, Appalachian Wood Products.

I just read, for the first time, comments about my brother, Larry, written by several people - some I knew, some I didn't. I am his older brother, Gordon. I miss him every day, and for the same reasons that you wrote about. He was an honest person. There was absolutely NOTHING phony about him. If you wanted the truth, even though it would hurt, ask him!, I feel closer to him now, when I talk to Steve Mullis or another one of the WYLDS band members (I just sent Steve a picture yesterday) of, you guessed it: The WYLDS Band.
