“ Leo was my first boss at Kimball in 1985. 37 years later, I still quote him and use the lessons he taught me in my work and daily life. He took the time to teach me all the things he felt I needed to know in my role. He was no-nonsense but he had a sense of humor. He could be stern but always had goodness and purpose at heart. He thought and planned strategically and yet got things done in the moment. He worked hard. He was honest, full of integrity, loved his family, cared for his community and helped all he came in contact with. He guided me and so many others in our careers. He cared about us personally and professionally. My deepest sympathies go out to his family in this time of loss. He was a treasure and will be remembered and missed forever. "...well done thy good and faithful servant...".

“ I first knew Leo through 4-H as a leader but also as a colleague of my dad, the county agent. Later I would be blessed to know him through work at Kimball and it was always such a pleasure to talk with him. He always had such a calming presence and a gentle humor. Rest in Peace, Leo!

“ Leo was a great GENTLEman who always was willing to LISTEN. While I did not work directly with him at Kimball, I knew many who did and whenever I did associate with him at work, he was always a model employee and co-worker.

My fondest memories of Leo are him playing Santa Claus and simply all of the time that we connected with each other in community opportunities. Most recently we were so glad to see him at Legacy Living and his continued service to others by calling BINGO.

A pillar of our community and someone who served us all well. May he rest in peace!

“ It's a great tribute to Leo that so many of his work associates at Kimball thought so highly of him. My relationship with him was forged earlier than our days together there as he was very involved with youth in the Kiwanis Key Club when I was in high school. Once he knew you, you always had a trusted friend and counselor who always made you feel appreciated when you interacted with him. Leo will always remain one of the finest men I've ever know.

“ A great person can not only be measured by their deeds, but also by their influence they may have on others. Leo was the person who hired me at Kimball some thirty plus years ago. I've told many stories about Leo over the years, but the majority were about his capability for being brutally honest! You never had to guess what Leo thought about anything, he'd tell you to your face. I can say without hesitation that Leo is the reason I was able to have a long career at Kimball. If he were the person who glossed over imperfections, I very likely wouldn't be at Kimball currently. I once told Leo that he reminded me of my father, gruff on the exterior, but with a compassionate heart. Farewell you ol' Dutchman.
