“ I had the privilege of working with Mary for many years on the skilled unit at Jasper Hospital she was an awesome coworker no matter how bad a day or how overwhelmed our day was I always made her laugh.... there was days where she came to work and you knew she was not feeling well bet she kept going and did her work and you never heard her complain she was a true inspiration to all ....she will truly be missed , she was a great person and I'm sure God knew that as well and therefore he needed another angel and now he has Mary

“ John and Mary are now united in their celebration of togetherness in life and in death. They now celebrate with life's shackles removed. One of the more honest things about each is they are now together for every and a day.
