“ I'll never forget the "stars over Wetumpka". Or Norah Jones. Or Pantera and Alice and Chains for that matter but that's a whole other story. I will never forget Redland Rd or Azaliawood Drive and how much love was shared there. You were such an amazing person through and through. I'm so glad you're now reunited with your Daddy. It's the only thing you were missing in life. And the one thing you wanted the most. I guess I'll see you next lifetime, like we always planned, Bo Bear. Always, always. You're in my heart forever more. And I am truly heartbroken that this ugly world is without you're sense of humor and outlook on life, and death and God and such. You will be missed by all who knew you and forever mourned by all who loved you. And I had that greatest pleasure. I'm sure nobody will ever read this and it won't matter much if they did. But I know you get it "my best good friend". Like Jenni... I will always be "your girl". As you intended.

“ From all of the nights we watched movies and played pool....or the conversations we had about life and heaven, talking about your dad and my mom....or the laughter from you playing with the kids....or the genuine love and affection you shared for your cats and animals in general...or the excitement you had because you were finally happy with the direction your life was going....and all the conversations and moments shared about your son, whom you loved with all you had....you will be missed dearly. You touched our lives for the better. You were so young. The world will not be the same without your kindness and infectious laughter. We will miss you. We love you, Beau.
