Merry Christmas Mom and Dad!

I recently checked the funeral home's obituary column in preparation for a memoir piece that I am writing for the Winter Writers' Workshop I. I entitled it "Cemetery Hill". It was in part a Christmas present to the entire Klem family.

I recognized that few of us have come to this site, including me... you have been in our memories.

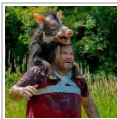

I did become aware that your grandson, Tim, has been here quite often over the years, six times by my count. In addition, during these years, Tim has driven himself to St. Anthony several times to pay tribute and respect to you at your tombstone.

My heart was deeply touched by this knowledge, such love that he had, and has, for both of you! Please send Tim your love!

So immensely proud of you Tim!! Love, sweet love with the wish for eternal peace. Thanks Mom and Dad!

Your son, Dan

You only entered because I told you. Years later you find this and think you have any right! Leave Daniel for you are a stain on the family just like Jim getting my grandfather to sign over the company on his death bed. You are what caused the family to split up. How dare you come here to a place of mourning. Daniel. I'm adopted. I'm not your son.

“ I realize this is extremely dated but I stumbled upon Mr.Klem’s obituary quite by accident. Back in 1973, I was a recent graduate of Perry Central in Leopold, Indiana and had dropped out of Indiana University because I had met the love of my life and wanted to get a job and get married. Mr Klem gave me that job. I worked there as a drawer fitter for about a year. One big order was for the Galt House in Louisville. It was a long drive but overall a positive experience. BTW, I did marry that gal. She has since passed due to cancer but I have two sons. One is a major in the US Army. Also 3 grandkids. Thanks to Mr. O for helping me get started.
