“ I met Roy while working in the Comptroller Office around 1991, and he was always very polite and courteous to me and many others. Years later we gathered travel information together and he was always just as nice and helpful as he had always been. I appreciated his personality and assistance very much, and he will always be in my pleasant memories! Please accept my condolences during time of sorrow. I will keep his family and friends in my prayers.

“ My condolences for your loss. Roy often helped me resolve issues that were not possible for others to solve. That extra effort he supplied combined with the keen desire to contribute made him a special person. If I can be of help/support please do not hesitate to ask. Sincerely,
